

Daily Essentials Pack

Product Description

The term 'essential nutrients' applies to a select group of vitamins, minerals, and essential fatty acids that are vital to human health, but that we do not make ourselves. Because we can't make them, they must come from an outside source like food or natural health product. Most of us grew up thinking that we could get all the nutrition we need from our diets, but modern research has shown that many of us do not achieve this goal.

The Immunotec Daily Essentials Pack is designed to provide you with the essential nutrients you need each and every day to maintain good health. These three powerful products - Vitamin and Mineral Supplement with Resveratrol, Omega-3 with Turmeric, and Naturally Sourced Calcium from Milk - supply a nutritional foundation of vitamins, minerals, and omega-3 fatty acids to form the cornerstone of your personal wellness program.
