Highlight Ingredients

Guarana. The extract of the fruit of this Amazonian plant has been used by the indigenous people for thousands of years as a way to combat fatigue and weakness. You will find it appearing only in quality energy drinks, weight-loss products, alertness and memory supplements, as well as athletic performance enhancement.

Glycerophosphate Minerals.

Xtra Sharp provides calcium, iron, and potassium in the form of glycerophosphates. This unique form of minerals is thought to offer enhanced and more rapid absorption.

Alfalfa (Medicago sativa). Alfalfa has been used for thousands of years as a digestive and nutritive herb. It is rich in vitamins A, B, C, and K, and is a natural source of calcium, potassium, magnesium, and phosphorus.

Dandelion (Taraxacum officinale). While many of us think of it as a weed, the dandelion has been prized for centuries by cultures as diverse as the Greeks and the Native Americans for its health-giving and nutritive properties. It is primarily a restorative herb for the liver, digestive system, and kidney.

Ginseng (Panax ginseng). In traditional Chinese medicine, ginseng is the ultimate restorative herb and is used to stave off weakness, tiredness, low resistance, stress, aging, and poor metabolism.

Polygala (Polygala senega). From the tradition of Taoist medicine, polygala is prized as a “spirit herb” and is thought to relax the mind, improve creativity, and strengthen willpower.

Sarsaparilla (Smilax aristoloch). Sarsaparilla has been used as a medicinal and restorative herb for centuries in South America. In North America, it has been used in health drinks and sodas for hundreds of years. Traditional uses include supporting the health of the skin, joints, kidneys, and immune system. It is also believed to enhance the absorption and activity of other herbs.
